Future Studios Producer Hannah Beugeard will talk about ways to work empathetically in film & TV, where awareness of other perspectives creates a healthier production environment.

Hannah, who is also one of the Bullying & Harassment Officers at BECTU, will discuss empathetic and inclusive approaches for tackling difficult subject matters with colleagues and on-screen contributors, and empathy in constructive feedback, for working and mentoring relationships.

Thank you to Sara Putt Associates for supporting this strand of talks.

Many people in film & TV production & post-production now perform hyphenated roles. From editor-writer-director, producer-director-academic and editor-sound,, our speakers discuss the merits and challenges of working across several roles versus specialising in a single discipline. What is most enjoyable and effective for delivery? What is driven by choice and what by necessity? How do you present yourself to future employers? What experiences and advice do our speakers have?

Drawn from our mentoring community, our speakers are:

Natasha Griffiths, writer, director, lecturer (Jamaica)

Jack Goessens, editor, writer, director (Netherlands, UK)

Claude Niyomugabo, producer, director (Rwanda, UK)

Jendayi Omowale, filmmaker, writer, academic (Jamaica, USA, UK)

Cross-Border Coffees

Cross-Border Coffees, supported by Future Studios.

Here are some of our community who have recently benefitted from a Cross-Border Coffee:

Humnah Abdullah (UK) with a producer in Bangladesh.

Nazim Kadri-Zade (Ukraine, UK) with an executive producer in the UK.

Alice Degrassi (UK, Italy) with a cinematographer in Australia.

Ana Mlynarska (Poland, UK) with an editor in Scotland.

Claude Niyomugabo (Rwanda, UK) with a producer in the UK.

Lucas Fothergill (UK, Canada) with a broadcaster in Canada.

Find out more and request a Cross-Border Coffee to seek new knowledge and advice from a production or post-production person in another country:

Cross-Border Mentoring

It was exciting to bring our Spring 2023 Cross-Border Mentoring cohort together for the first time. Spanning 25 different countries and five time zones, this was a great opportunity for mentees and mentors to start making their new international connections.
